By STANLEY JOHNSON
LAKE SUCCESS — (AP)—United Nations diplomats paced the corridors today, waiting for Communist China's reply to their latest peace bid.

If previous experience is any criterion, their vigil promised to be long. The Communist Peiping regime twice kept the U. N. on tenterhooks for over a week before it rejected two previous appeals.

Benton Harbor Grocer Is Slain

Chicago Negro Held In Fatal Holdup

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—A Chicago Negro who said he was wanted by New York police faced arraignment today on a murder charge in the holdup slaying of grocer Charles Slosson, 52.

Held in the fatal shooting is Walter Anderson, 37.

Police detectives Merle McCarrroll and Chester Jolley said Anderson signed a statement saying he went into the grocery store owned by Slosson's father just before midnight Saturday and fatally wounded the son while grappling with a patron.

The father, Frank Slosson, 52, was shot in the kneecap during the fracas, but was not hurt seriously.

The younger Slosson died on the way to Mercy hospital of wounds in the abdomen and just below the left eye.

Frank Slosson, who owns the store, told the detectives the gunman came in brandishing a .32-caliber pistol. He said William Coffee, 33, also a Negro, was in a telephone booth at the time and sprang out and grabbed Anderson.

The shots were fired at the father and son as the two men struggled, Slosson said.

At that point, the two detectives happened by in a police car and overpowered Anderson.

Congressman Shafer Proposes Bridge To Canada From Sault

SAULT STE. MARIE —(AP)—The nation's defense needs may result in a highway bridge connecting Canada and the United States here, said Rep. Paul Shafer (R-Mich.) yesterday.

Shafer, in a recorded radio broadcast (over WSOO), said such a bridge over the St. Mary's river "might become feasible" in the future if defense needs increase.

Only a railroad bridge now spans the river.

Shafer, who recorded the broadcast in Washington for the northern network, said there is a "good possibility" the armed services committee will send a subcommittee to take a look at the Soo locks.

Shafer is a member of that committee. He said he believed the group should inspect the locks to see how important they are to national defense.

Accidents Kill 12 In Michigan

Icy Highways Blamed For Most Deaths

(By The Associated Press)

Wintry weather that returned to Michigan in a rush Sunday helped boost the state's accidental death total to 12 for the weekend.

Eleven of the victims died in traffic, and most of those could be attributed to the coating of snow and ice that made highways slick and dangerous.

Two were killed and three were injured Sunday when two cars collided on icy US-12 two miles west of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Leona Meeks, 18, of Ann Arbor, and Victor S. Shylinski, 34, of Detroit, lost their lives in that crash.

Jerold Bachman, 19, of Sturgis, was killed Sunday morning when his car skidded on icy pavement in St. Joseph county near Leoni and hit a tree. The youth was to have been sworn into the Air Force on Friday.

Jimmy Sullivan, six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan of East Lansing, died early today in Pawating hospital at Niles, 24 hours after he was injured in a two-car collision on US-112 just east of Niles.

A car driven by the baby's father skidded on an icy curve and collided with one driven by Charles J. Schmitt of Chicago.

They pointed out, however, that should Peiping accept the U. N. conference bid, any U. S. refusal to join the talks would alienate many countries, particularly in Asia and the British Commonwealth.

Break With Moscow Demanded By Senator

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Asserting that the United States already is fighting Communism "in World War III," Senator Bridges (R-NH) called today for a break in diplomatic relations with Russia.

Bridges, top Republican on the Senate armed services and appropriations committee, said there must be round-the-clock production and universal military service to build the fighting machine to win "a war far more deadly than any in the recorded history of mankind."

The New Hampshire senator said there isn't any use trying to negotiate further with Stalin, adding that "we had as well try to treat with Satan."

"Let us have an end to the diplomatic farce," he said. "We should immediately outlaw international Communism by severing diplomatic relation with Soviet Russia and her puppets."

"When slave people chase out their Kremlin masters, we can welcome them back to the family of nations. Until that day we have enough home bred spies without importing them from Russia."

Bridges said that Communist countries ought to be "thrown out of the United Nation" if the very name of this organization is to have any meaning.

The New Hampshire senator called on president Truman to summon new leaders to his executive department and "rid the state department of the architects of disaster, the termites and the muddled incompetents" whose thinking has led us from victory to disaster to war in five short years.

Ban On Building Issued By NPA

Order Affects All Commercial Plans

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government today banned the construction of new stores, restaurants, office and other commercial buildings until Feb. 15.

Thereafter, each private new commercial structure must be specifically authorized by the national production authority.

NPA issued the order to save materials for the mobilization program.

Commercial building will be authorized, in general, only if it (1) furthers the defense effort, (2) is essential to public health, welfare or safety; or (3) alleviates or prevents a hardship in a community.

The order applies to new construction" starts and not to building already under way.

American Forces Stay In Korea, Gain 12 Miles In Offensive

TOKYO — (AP)—Allied forces struck out today in a sudden offensive on the western front. Tank-infantry by nightfall had recaptured three towns — Osan, Kumyangsang and Chon.

The attack by an army that had been in retreat since late November came only a few hours after Gen. J. Lawton Collins said American forces "will certainly stay and fight" in Korea.

Planes Pave Way
Collins made his fighting statement during a visit to Korea.

A blazing morning strike by fifth air force fighters and bombers paved the way for the attack.

The U. S. army chief of staff said troop replacements will begin to flow into Korea in two or three months. He added at a news conference during his fourth visit to the Korean theater.

One new regular army division will be organized. National guard units will be called into service. Some replacements for American troops already are going to the front.

Allied warplanes lashed at Suwon Monday with a blazing one-two punch. B-26 light bombers roared down on the airport city 20 miles south of Seoul shortly after daybreak, bombing and strafing enemy troops and buildings.

Then the fighter-bombers—F-80 Shooting Star jets, F-84 Thunderjets and the piston-engined F-51 Mustangs—swooped low, rocketing and machine-gunning the fleeing Reds.

Nearly 1000 Slain
The Fifth air force said nearly 1,000 communist troops were cut down as they fled northwards.

While Collins was taking a close look at the Korean war situation, allied troops recaptured fire-blackened Yongwol on the east-central front. Their reentry into the town eased pressure somewhat against U. S. second division forces holding off powerful Red forces near Wonju, 30 miles north-west of Yongwol.

But the second division's fighting stand in defense of the network of roads fanning out into the heart of South Korea still was in grave danger. A communist force of possibly 30,000 troops was reported operating in the rugged mountain area 25 to 35 miles south of Wonju. It threatened to choke off the second division's withdrawal route back to the main body of allied troops.

Communists Pouring In
Meanwhile, Communist reinforcements were reported pouring into the area north and west of Wonju. There they would be in position for a frontal assault against the stand-fast American, French and Dutch troops of the division or a flank sweep building up the cut-off threat.

Collins' promise that the U. S. would stay in Korea followed a series of high-level talks in Tokyo. These brought together general MacArthur, Collins, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, U. S. air forces chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, Chief of the Central Intelligence agency, and

Big Indochina Battle Raging

French Attacked By 12,000 Communists

HANOI, Indochina — (AP)—Communist Vietminh leaders are hurling 12,000 troops against the French defense line north of Hanoi—their second major assault in three weeks, the French army reported today.

Reporting heavy fighting underway, French army headquarters here said their defenders have not given ground in face of the two-pronged drive which opened before dawn yesterday 35 miles north of Hanoi and along the Red river 40 miles northwest of the capital.

French mobile reserves were rushed to danger sectors and in hand-to-hand fighting threw back Vietminh troops who had pierced two permanent fortifications, the Army said.

Reports reaching Hanoi said another French post also under heavy attack was still holding out, but that reserves had not yet gotten through to relieve the embattled garrison.

For the first time Vietminh forces took to the field during daylight to hold back the relief columns, the report said.

French bomber and fighter planes flew 32 sorties today in support of ground troops.

Agar was arrested Saturday night by officers who said he was driving erratically on Wilshire boulevard. He was released on $150 bail yesterday.

In a statement to the press, broadcast simultaneously by west German radio stations, he charged that the Soviet zone's Communist regime was the primary cause of the German east-west cleavage.

The Russians, he said, were forcibly preventing the unification of the country under free and democratic conditions.

East zone Premier Otto Brote-wahl proposed the talks seven weeks ago.

Seven Die In Flaming Airliner; Stewardess Perishes Rescuing 10

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—An attractive 24-year-old stewardess—only five months in flying service—died on duty yesterday after rescuing 10 passengers from the flaming wreckage of a National Airlines plane in which seven perished.

Mary Frances Housley, five foot, three inch brunette who went to work for NAL only last August, died a heroine in the fire swept DC-4. The big four-engined plane skidded over a runway, crashed into a ditch and burned in landing at International airport. Four other women and two babies lost their lives.

Baby In Arms
To the last, Miss Housley, described by fellow employees as

"the most pleasant person you ever want to meet," died with one of the victims—a four-month-old baby—in her arms. She was credited with leading to safety at least 10 of the 19 passengers who escaped with minor injuries.

Survivors of the crash told how the black-eyed hostess from Jacksonville, Fla., opened the cabin door and cautioned them to "take it easy." Then she made repeated rescue trips into the plane until she was swallowed up by the flames.

It was alternately snowing and raining as the big plane came in for its only landing on a flight

Officials Get Tough With Russia Over Billions Owed U. S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Fed up with four years of futile talks, American officials readied a showdown demand today for final settlement of Russia's $11,000,000,000 lend-lease account.

Russian and American negotiators were scheduled to resume conferences at the state department at 3 p. m. (EST) the first such session was held April 30, 1947. So far the only progress toward settlement of U. S. claims is the return by Russia of 28 small Naval craft and one ice breaker. Nothing has been done about winding up the financial account.

Time To Quit Stalling
Officials preparing for the meeting said they had decided to discard diplomatic soft talk in favor of blunt, plain speaking—to tell the Russians that the time has come to quit stalling and agree on terms.

If the Soviets will not do this, the American government may denounce the Russian government for bad faith in negotiations. Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panushkin was named to head the Russian group across the conference table from an American panel headed by John C. Wiley, former ambassador to Iran.

Had Peace-Time Value
The primary demand of the United States, authorities said, is that Russia pay "a reasonable price" for goods received under lend-lease—such as motor vehicles—which were not used up in the war against Hitler and therefore had a peace-time value to the Soviet Union.

Medical Chief Of VA Ousted

High Officials Clash Over Hospitals

By ROWLAND EVANS, Jr.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Dr. Paul B. Magnuson, medical director of the Veterans administration, said today he has been ousted from his job. He accused administrator Carl R. Gray, jr., of endorsing policies which he said "are certain to wreck the whole VA medical set-up."

Gray, who announced yesterday he had "accepted" Magnuson's resignation, effective today, told a reporter that there were "differences of opinion which apparently could not be reconciled."

But Magnuson told newsmen he had refused to offer a requested resignation. He said the resignation Gray mentioned had been offered more than two years ago.

The two officials have been at Loggerheads ever since Magnuson became chief medical director in 1948. He had been assistant director since 1945.

Magnuson said the main issue was who should operate VA hospitals—doctors or non-medical men. Magnuson said he had fought to keep doctors in control while Gray wanted non-medical officials to do the administrative work.

Spending Budget Needs 16 Billion In New Revenue

Fiscal year ending June 30:

	1951	1952
Spending .....	$ 47,210,000,000	$ 71,594,000,000
Income (X) .....	44,512,000,000	55,138,000,000

Year-end Debt (X) .....	260,300,000,000	276,300,000,000
(X) under present tax laws

By CHARLES MOLONY

WASHINGTON — (AP)—President Truman today sent Congress a $71,594,000,000 spending budget for the government next year and said a tax boost of $16,456,000,000 is needed to balance it.

The President told reporters at a budget preview session that he will ask a tax hike of at least that amount—and perhaps as much as $20,000,000,000—in a special message to Congress he hopes to have ready in about three weeks.

$471 Per Person
He said he would like Congress to make all tax increases retroactive to last January 1. But he showed no confidence that would really happen.

In his message to the new Congress today, the President said: "This is a budget for our national security in a period of grave danger."

The unprecedented "peace-time" spending program Mr. Truman proposed for the fiscal year starting July 1—nearly three-fifths of it for military services—figures out to about $471 for every one of the some 152,000,000 men, women and children in the U. S.

And if the President has his way on taxes, just about that same average amount will be collected from citizens although some of it, of course, will be in the form of hidden taxes or indirect costs.

Pet Measures Included
The new Congress will have full say-so on whether taxes should be raised and by what amount. But it can block or control part of his spending program, unless it repeals past laws on a big scale.

The President told newsmen that actions by past Congresses authorize $30,462,000,000 of the funds to carry out his plans. He needs to look to the new Congress only for the remaining $41,132,000,000.

Mr. Truman's bulky budget message was a more controversial document in some respects than his "State of the Union" address last Monday.

He called in it for many of his pet "fair deal" measures such as the civil rights program, federal medical insurance and a major part of the Brannan Farm plan. That seemed certain to arouse ire in some congressional quarters.

Fierce outcries from "economy" advocates also appeared so sure that Mr. Truman anticipated them by laying down a defense of his spending program in advance.

New Security Tag
Observing to reporters that opinions differ on what are "defense" and "non-defense" outlays, he dropped the heading of "defense"—direct military costs and strategic stockpiling—which had been used in past budgets. He put a "national security" tag on the new listing.

Then he budgeted "major national security programs" at $52,510,000,000 for next year, an increase of $25,466,000,000 over this fiscal year, now half gone.

The "remainder" of his program was price-tagged for $19,084,000,000. He described that as a saving of $1,082,000,000 from this year's costs, even though it contains operations "influenced by the present emergency," for example, coast guard, port security work, and FBI loyalty checks

Britain Will Carry Big Defense Burden, Eisenhower Assured

By JOHN RODERICK

LONDON—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower gets first-hand assurance today that Britain—World War Two's "Outpost of Freedom"—is prepared for heavier sacrifices to help shore up the West's defenses.

The supreme commander of the Atlantic forces in Europe was to hear from defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell still unpublished details of the nation's biggest peacetime arms program.

It is expected to include an expansion of last September's $3,400,000,000 ($10,000,000,000) 3-year defense estimate to between $4,000,000,000 and $5,000,000,000.

Other objectives reportedly are increased production of all kinds of armaments, the drafting of 200,000 reserves for as much as three months training and a renewed spurt towards 1951's goal of 10 regular and 12 "territorial" or National Guard divisions.

The new program will impose a heavy burden on a nation already staggering under austerity. It is expected to be ready for parliamentary action by the second week in February.

General Finds Apathy Eisenhower's Atlantic force will be further streamlined, today's Laborite Daily Herald reported, to constitute three commands instead of the five "balanced forces" originally planned.

The commands will cover Scandinavia in the north, Germany in Central Europe and the Mediterranean in the south, the paper said.

Before leaving London for Lisbon tomorrow, Eisenhower will confer with Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and will attend a meeting of the Atlantic Pact's council of deputies.

It is expected to call the deputies' attention to the apathy toward defense he encountered in his brief European tour preceding his arrival here. Possibly he will suggest a psychological campaign to combat Europe's defiance in the face of danger.

Western Europe has made no secret of the fact that it looks without any great enthusiasm on the prospect of gearing to defense economies already severely strained by World War II.

Most of West Europe's people are frightened by the twin specters of possible quick defeat at Russian hands and a wholesale destruction on a scale dwarfing that of the last conflict.

Other survivors are two brothers, Henry and William of Cadillac, and three sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Anderson and Mrs. Bailey of Cadillac; and Mrs. Minnie Paine of Green Bay.

The body will be brought to Gladstone for funeral services and burial. The Skradski funeral home will be in charge of arrangements.

Other survivors are two brothers, Henry and William of Cadillac, and three sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Anderson and Mrs. Bailey of Cadillac; and Mrs. Minnie Paine of Green Bay.

The message received by relatives said he had been found dead in bed but gave no further details.

Mr. Blaine who formerly was sales representative of an auto parts company traveling in this territory was a district manager of the business house with headquarters in Memphis.

He leaves his wife, the former Lois Mitchell, and two children. Funeral services will be held at Raton, N. M., his former home, and burial will be made there.

Fined $50 For Drunk Driving

Albert J. Girard of 923 Washington avenue, Escanaba, Saturday pleaded guilty in Justice Henry Ranguette's court at Escanaba to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants and paid a fine of $50 and costs.

His license to operate a motor vehicle was revoked.

State police of the Gladstone post arrested Girard Dec. 16, but at a previous court appearance Girard did not enter a plea to the charge.

Window had been forced open, his house ransacked and his favorite shotgun stolen.

Peninsula '400' Time Changed

Schedule Will Be Effective Jan. 21

Effective Jan. 21, the Peninsula "400" streamliner will leave Escanaba southbound at 8:13 a. m. (CST) instead of 8:28 a. m., and northbound will arrive at 10:47 p. m. instead of 10:47 p. m. (CST).

Revision of the timetable is in compliance with a nation-wide 1. C. C. order, setting a maximum speed of 59 miles per hour for passenger trains and 49 miles for freight trains in territory not equipped with automatic block signals.

The order, consequently, applies to the peninsula division between Duck Creek and Ishpeming, which does not have automatic block signals. It will necessitate lengthening the schedule of the Peninsula "400" streamliner by 20 minutes.

The southbound train will be scheduled out of Ishpeming at 6:50 a. m. instead of 7:10 a. m. and will arrive at Green Bay at 10:45 a. m. as at present. It will leave Escanaba at 8:13 a. m. (CST). There will be no change in the schedule south of Green Bay.

The northbound streamliner will have no changes from Chicago to Green Bay. It will leave Green Bay at 8:30 p. m., as at present; leave Escanaba at 10:47 p. m.; arrive at Negaunee, 12:03 a. m.; and Ishpeming, 12:15 a. m.

Before leaving London for Lisbon tomorrow, Eisenhower will confer with Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and will attend a meeting of the Atlantic Pact's council of deputies.

$30,000 Injury Trial Is Begun

Miss Kelly Sues Red Owl Stores, Inc.

A circuit court jury today began hearing testimony in the $30,000 personal injury suit of Miss Annie T. Kelly of Escanaba against Red Owl Stores, Inc., with Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone presiding at the session of circuit court in Escanaba.

In opening statement to the jury this morning, counsel for Miss Kelly said the accident occurred Aug. 25, 1949, in the Escanaba Red Owl store, when Miss Kelly slipped and fell where a bottle of olives had been broken.

The plaintiff will show, counsel stated, that Miss Kelly sustained a back injury that has incapacitated her and that she is in constant pain. She is unable to sleep and obtains relief only by sitting upright in a chair, the jury was advised.

Employee Testifies

It has been necessary for Miss Kelly to have constant practical nursing attendance since the accident, for another fall or a twist of the back might result in complete paralysis, plaintiff's counsel told the jury.

The sum of $30,000 damages is asked for the physical and mental suffering, for doctor and hospital bills, and for the disability. First witness summoned by the plaintiff, Ronald Moras, Escanaba Red Owl store employee, is also a witness for the defendant. Under questioning of plaintiff's counsel, Moras testified that he recalled the bottles of olives being broken and the juice spilled in the south aisle of the store.

Spot Was Mopped

Moras testified that he swept the olives into a container, emptied them in the garbage, and brought a mop and mopped up the juice. He then went to get another mop. He said that he did not recall putting up any barricade at the spot, or seeing one there, although he admitted that such should be done if there was a hazardous condition.

Counsel for the defendant will have the opportunity to cross-examine Moras, possibly this afternoon.

The jury hearing the case is composed of Louis Nelson, Maple Ridge township; Robert M. LeGault, Elmer F. LaPlant, city of Escanaba; Harold E. Tang and Harvey Rasmussen of Gladstone; Francis LaChance of Baldwin township; Chester Mroczkowski, Bark River township; Oscar E. Sedquist, Wells township; Cedric G. Quinn, Hilma Laviolette, Mary E. Sedburgh and Mrs. Edith Pearson of Escanaba city.

All other jurors previously listed for duty were discharged for the term.

Detroit Delays Reporting Orders For AF Enlistees
All men in the Detroit, Mich., area who have enlisted in the U. S. Air Force since Jan. 8 have been ordered to report to Detroit recruiting station today and to disregard all previous reporting instructions.

The order, from Major Thomas P. Dickinson, public information officer for the Michigan Military district, does not apply to Upper Michigan men who have enlisted at Escanaba, local recruiting officers said here.

The countermand of reporting orders in Detroit is due to a heavy backlog of enlistees ordered to report to San Antonio, Texas. Detroit has 956 enlistees ready to go. They will be ordered to duty in lots of 33 per day.

Huge Federal Budget Points Up Need For National Sacrifices

THE tremendous scope of federal spending in the next fiscal year is revealed in President Truman's budget proposals submitted to Congress. The budget provides for an outlay of $471 next year for every man, woman and child in the United States and a total spending of nearly $72 billions in the 12 months period beginning July 1, 1951.

A huge proportion of the spending total,

Proceed With Caution In Indo-China

FOR the first time in many weeks mildly encouraging reports have come out of Indo-China. French forces, fighting under their new commander, Gen. De Lattre de Tassigny, have retaken a number of forts previously lost to the rebel Viet Minh armies.

De Lattre has repeated his determination to yield no more ground to the Communists from here on. There was a tendency in many quarters to regard his original declaration as false bravado, but recent action has bolstered hope that Indo-China may be kept out of Red hands.

De Lattre claims his men disrupted a Viet Minh plan to close in on the big northern city of Hanoi the week after Christmas. He says the city is now out of any immediate danger.

It's too soon, however, for broad optimism. The Chinese Reds, who are helping the Viet Minh, presently are pre-occupied in Korea. The real crisis for Indo-China may come when and if they are no longer thus involved and can devote fuller attention to Ho Chi Minh's cause.

Russia Really Has Developed A-Bomb

IF there have been any lingering doubts among Americans about Russia having the atomic bomb, recent stories appearing in the U. S. press should have dispelled them.

We have more detail now, for instance, on how the government decided Moscow had exploded a bomb.

To begin with, seismographic stations—earthquake detectors—were on the alert all around the globe for any unusual disturbances. They recorded one in central Siberia in mid-1949.

Secondly, an A-bomb hurls radioactive substances high into the upper atmosphere, whereupon they are carried around the world. Scientific stations strategically placed were able to detect these particles after the explosion occurred. Once their presence was known, larger samples of the upper air were captured by planes and special balloons.

Then a group of the nation's top atomic scientists examined the samples with exhaustive care. They paid particular attention to the possibility the Russians might have accidentally discharged an atomic pile while trying to make a bomb.

They concluded unanimously that it was actually a bomb. The metallic content of the air would not fit any other conclusion. Indeed, when the scientists reported to President Truman, they told him that if it wasn't a bomb they couldn't imagine what it was.

Since that time, reliable intelligence sources have confirmed these convictions and have led our top atomic officials to believe the Soviet Union is producing about two A-bombs a month.

Despite all this, politicians both here and in Europe have been casting doubt on Soviet A-bomb progress. Some have questioned whether Russia really has a bomb "in production."

To answer the doubters, Gordon Dean, chairman of the U. S. atomic energy commission, recently reaffirmed these carefully considered estimates of Russian bomb output. He predicted that by the end of 1951 the Soviet Union would have a stockpile of nearly 60 bombs.

His reply was unequivocal and it fits exactly the two-month estimate offered earlier. In the light of this and other sober declarations by men in the best position to know, it would seem there's no room any more for dreaming that it "just ain't so."

Our own stockpile is variously estimated at from 350 to more than 1,000 bombs. Hence we'll still have a vast numerical superiority over Russia at the end of this year.

But when that time arrives, we can no longer think of delivering an A-bomb attack on Russia without suffering painful retaliation upon our own cities. For no air defense can keep all the bombs away, and Russia will then have enough to hurt us severely.

That Sun

By Gordon Martin

Most of us would like to go through life without a care at all, and would have the whole wide world a place where darkness couldn't fall. We would trod a path untroubled in the ever-present light, and we never once would have a stubborn barrier to fight. But if skies were always clear, we'd find our work too easy done, for the Lord, He made the clouds so we'd appreciate the sun.

Now that's true, of course, of weather, as it is of other things, and when gloomy days depart, we hail the cheer that sunlight brings. Then we're thankful that the sky above has brightened up our day, and in true appreciation, we may go our happy way. And it's just the same in meeting all the blows we take in life—to appreciate the better things, we have to know some strife.

We may often think we'd never tire of open roads ahead, but we'd soon be plenty bored as well as fat and overfed, as we took it all for granted, just as if it were our due, and we didn't turn a hand to make our cherished dreams come true. We would be denied the right to know the joy of battle won, for the Lord, He made the clouds so we'd appreciate the sun.

Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—There is no part of the world where the United States has battled harder to prevent Communism than in Germany, whose military-minded people and vast iron and steel resources can turn war into victory or defeat for Atlantic pact nations.

Yet the biggest propaganda boost for Communism and against the U. S. A. ever given the German people came from the man who sets himself up as the great enemy of Communism—Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin.

Supporting this grave statement is evidence locked in the secret files of the Senate armed services committee, evidence which a subcommittee went all the way to Germany to collect.

It shows that McCarthy allowed himself to become the mouthpiece of a German Communist agent—probably without realizing it. It shows that McCarthy charged the U. S. army with torturing German prisoners in order to extract confessions. And finally it shows that McCarthy's speeches, made on the floor of the U. S. Senate, were later broadcast all over Germany in order to promote Communism and inflame the German people against the U. S. A.

McCarthy's ill-advised propaganda speeches were in defense of the 12 Nazi SS men who lined up 80 unarmed American war prisoners and shot them in the Malmédy massacre during the Battle of the Bulge.

NAZIS GO UNPUNISHED

Of various atrocities committed during the war, this was by all odds the worst. It was more cold-blooded than any committed by the Japanese. Later the SS men who murdered the 80 defenseless American prisoners were caught, tried, and 12 were found guilty. However, they have never been hanged and here is the reason.

After they were condemned to death, a German agent named Rudolf Aschenauer sent faked-up charges to Frederic Libby of the National Council for the Prevention of War, that U. S. army prosecutors had tortured the Nazi SS men to obtain confessions.

Libby, not realizing he was being used, passed this on to McCarthy. He even passed it on in the same large brown envelope he received from Munich, with Rudolf Aschenauer's name attached.

A high American intelligence officer later gave the Senate armed services committee information linking Aschenauer with the Communist agitators who are trying to stir up German resentment against the U. S. A. Aschenauer, according to U. S. intelligence, was secretly affiliated with a Communist spy ring whose purpose was to keep the German people on Moscow's side.

Its job was to plant this dynamite-laden propaganda on McCarthy and then cable his inflammatory speeches back to Germany. There they were headlined in the press.

MCCARTHY SHOUTS

"I have seen documentary evidence that the (German war criminals) were subject to beatings and physical violence in such forms as could only be devised by warped minds," McCarthy stormed. "They were subjected to sham trials, to mock hangings, and families were deprived of rations—all of which the prosecution justified as being necessary to create the right psychological atmosphere in which to obtain confessions."

"It is an unquestioned fact," McCarthy shouted, "that an innocent man will scream just as loudly as a guilty man when being tortured, and, likewise, an innocent man will sign a confession just as quickly as a guilty man when being tortured."

Naturally this made headlines in Germany. Naturally these grave charges, coming from a U. S. senator, were believed. And they turned thousands of Germans against the United States. Meanwhile, American taxpayers have been paying one billion dollars a year to feed the German people and keep them with us.

McCarthy's charges were taken so seriously by Germans that to this day the army has not been able to execute the 12 convicted Nazi SS men. To hang them would cause extreme public reaction, possibly riots.

Elmsford: In school we are having a discussion as to whether there is a female moth. If there is, what is a female moth called?—J. V.

A. The little-girl-next-door thinks that a female moth is a myth. There are female moths, of course, but there is no word of feminine gender that designates a female. One simply calls them female moths.

Milwaukee: Our English class has formed a club, the purpose of which is training the members in after-dinner speaking. Will you help us find a sort of high-sounding name that means "after-dinner club"?—H. C. D.

A. I have the exact word for you. It's postprandial, pronounced: post-PRAN-dee-ull. It is formed from post, "after," plus the Latin prandium, "a repast." And good luck to you in your very much worth while undertaking.

Elkhart: Can you give us a simple rule for using "among" and "between"?—J. J. A. In best usage, between applies to only two, as between two fires; John and Mary share the book between them; between you and me, I think. . .

Among applies to more than two, as he is a man among men; an agreement among friends; she placed it among her souvenirs. A similar construction is that which distinguishes "each other" and "one another." Each other applies to two only; John and Mary like each other; the sisters resemble each other.

One another applies to more than two; The students competed with one another; the members of the class have disagreed with one another.

The efficiency of the honeybee is being stepped up these days by scientific methods, but even these have not yet been able to bring the supply of wax and honey up to new huge demands. Upper left, a federal apiculturist (that's a bee expert) shows a pollen trap. To get into the hive the bee must walk through a wire mesh screen. This scrapes the pollen into a tray, where it is tested and graded. Upper right, a young beekeeper gets instructions from a veteran at the business. Lower left, a closeup of that busy worker, the honey bee. Lower right, a bee goes under a microscope in a federal laboratory devoted entirely to these remarkable insects.

Busy Bees Still Cannot Keep Up With Demand For Wax And Honey

By MARY JANE MOORE

America's bees are working overtime, but they still can't produce enough honey and wax to meet the unprecedented demand.

Few realize the many uses to which the handiwork of the honeybee is being put nowadays. The most obvious, of course, is honey, which found thousands of new devotees during the sugar shortage.

Beekeeping today is in greater demand than ever before, and its application in industry and science is remarkably diverse.

In paints and varnishes, as coatings on airplanes, as a preservative of many uses, in medicine, for ointments and salves, as a means of waterproofing and insect-proofing, in making insulation, carbon paper, cosmetics for milady, crayons, and scores more, wax is an increasingly important commodity.

In fact, a recent official compilation shows that there now are more than 100 commercial uses for beeswax, and the list is steadily growing.

One of the traditional uses of beeswax is in religious candles. Both the Catholic and the Episcopal churches prescribe the percentage of genuine beeswax which must be included in tapers.

Brazil Big Producer During the war, the vastly expanded demand for honey and wax far outstripped supply. There weren't enough bees; but, even more important, there wasn't enough manpower to take care of all those who might have been put to work. And while supply now is beginning to catch up, there's still a big gap to be filled.

Domestic beeswax production now is running about 3,500,000 pounds annually, with imports totaling another 4,000,000 pounds. Most of the latter comes from South and Central America, with Brazil the largest single foreign producer.

It seems paradoxical to associate the buzzing bee on the wing, sipping nectar from a lovely flower, with big business, but the connection is real and impressive.

Man's use of bee products can be traced to earliest antiquity. Today, science has taken a hand in studying the honeybee, and, through research, has been able to step up both quality and productivity and to put the results to countless new uses undreamed of in years gone by.

One of the leaders in this research is James I. Hambleton, head of the Bee Culture Laboratory of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Slow motion pictures and new devices have made possible a much closer understanding of the bee than ever before.

Federal entomologists have learned that if a human infant grew like a bee it would weigh nearly four tons at the end of the first week. If it happened to be an especially favored girl baby, it would break the nursery scale with its weight of nearly eight tons.

You may not think so, but bees really are peace-loving species. They will not sting even in self-defense, for to sting is to die. The bee makes the supreme sacrifice only in defense of the hive. And the queen bee is one of nature's unique marvels in that she can and does control the sex of her offspring.

Weight Losses Checked The new devices being used to study the bee are most ingenious.

One is a self-recording instrument which indicates hourly when weather conditions are suitable to permit bees to fly out into the field. Another invention minutely records the loss in weight of a colony of bees. The consumption of food and the amount of honey produced from various flowers is registered continuously.

An especially devised time clock automatically records the hour when the bees start flying in the morning and when they stop in the afternoon. This device also gives the figure which represents the total flight activity on any particular day. Data from such apparatus is used to study changes in temperature, humidity, intensity of the sun and other important factors which influence the field activity of a colony of bees.

Another discovery of the bee experts concerns the really amazing growth of the larva. When this is hatched it is fed with a substance known as "royal jelly" which exudes from the heads of the young worker-bee. This feeding is continued for 3 days, then the larva is given a less rich food for 3 days. During the 6 days, however, the increase in weight is 1,200-fold. Part of this growth, Mr. Hambleton says, is due undoubtedly to the extraordinary food value of the royal jelly, which serves as milk for the bee babies. A compound of carbohydrates, fats and proteins, it appears to be the most perfect food known to man.

Sealed in Silk Bag After the week of intensive feeding the larva is sealed up in a silken bag in which it transforms into a pupa. In this state it receives no nourishment, and it emerges after twenty-one days as a worker-bee. For a few days the worker is confined entirely to "housework." It exudes the royal jelly to feed other larva and is busy with necessary tasks about the hive. Then it is allowed to go in search of honey and continues during its life of about six weeks as a field bee.

The queen bee differs radically from all other bees. She has different legs, head, eyes, jaw, and internal organs. Yet at the beginning of her 2 to 3 year busy life she is no different from any of the other female larva which develop into workers. Bee experts have been trying to determine the reason and can find no other explanation except that she is given a richer diet. She is fed intensively during her entire larval existence. As a result she increases in weight 2,500-fold in five days. Her life as a baby bee is cut short to sixteen days.

In a sense, Mr. Hambleton points out, such extraordinary results are possible because the bees understand the science of dietetics better than do human beings. Some day it may be possible to produce startling effects in human beings by means of diet alone.

During the height of the season the queen can lay as many as 1,500 eggs daily and keep it up for many days. As for her control of the sex of her offspring, the egg which is to produce a male is laid in a large, hexagonal, waxen cell. All female, or worker, bees start life in similar, but smaller cells. The queen limits the production of male bees mainly to Spring. This is the breeding season and there must be plenty of drones to insure the proper mating of all virgin queens. The queen bee is the mother of a family, but has lost most of her maternal instincts. Her sole duty is to lay eggs. She does not seem to care whether they hatch or not, nor does she bother about feeding her young. She does not gather food nor does she take the trouble to protect her children, and she seldom feeds even herself.

Female Bees Are Workers Worker-bees are the producers. They are female, but lack the power to reproduce. However, they have the maternal instincts their peculiar mother lacks.

During the first two weeks of adult life, a worker is a nurse-bee, feeding the bees just out of the egg. They are not satisfied with three meals a day. They want their cradles lined with food. A baby larva floats in food.

Workers have many other duties. Besides caring for the new baby bees the nurse-bees polish the cells and keep the hive clean. They take out all dead or sick bees. They build the thousands of new cells needed to house the increasing population and gather nectar from the flowers and carry it to the hive. The nurse-bees reduce this thin nectar into heavy, mellow honey. After several weeks as nurse-bees, the workers become field bees and from then on spend almost all their time bringing in nectar and pollen. Worker-bees live only about six weeks.

Workers are smaller than the queen and different in other respects. They both come from the same kind of egg. Workers have the power to convert a day-old worker larva into a fully matured and sexually perfect queen. If the queen meets with an accident, or dies, the workers will produce a new queen from a larva that has not yet begun to start from egg or worker larva to start from. The quantity and kind of food and the shape of the cell determine whether a fertilized egg is to be queen or worker.

Male Bees Is Lazy The drone, or male bee, is lazy. He has no fatherly sense of responsibility nor the slightest wish to work. Nor does he ever go out for food. All he has to do is mate with a virgin queen. But the drone pays dearly for this luxury. After the breeding season is over, if he feels becomes scarce in the hive, the worker sisters get busy and drive him out and he dies of cold or starvation.

The experts have made some interesting observations about the peculiar stinging habits of bees. The worker-bee has a barbed sting. When it is withdrawn from her victim her internal organs are so wrenched that it means certain death. The lone bee never stings but will die without a second's hesitation if the hive is threatened. The only exception is when she is actually picked up and squeezed in the fingers.

As for the queen bee—she can sting all she pleases with perfect immunity because there is no barb on her stinger. She is, however, exceptionally peaceful, leaving the defense of the hive to the workers. The only exception is when another queen bee invades her territory. Then there is a fight to the death.

In slack seasons the ordinarily well behaved honey-bees acquire the habit of stepping from the straight and narrow path of honesty and turn robbers. Pandit bees from strong colonies force their way into the hives of weaker colonies and overcome the guards at the door, drive out the weaker bees and seize their stores.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

COMING THIS WAY—Every community, whether in Northern Michigan with the assistance of the U. P. Development Bureau, or elsewhere in the nation, is seeking favorable attention.

All of us like to be thought well of, and that includes the town or city in which we live. Many states and some communities sponsor costly advertising programs with expenditure of public funds to keep their attractions before the people.

Many people are surprised by the free—and therefore most effective—advertising the Escanaba area receives. The answer is in the number of sincere boosters in the community, plus their ability to recognize a good booster story or picture when they see one.

SINGING OUR PRAISES—Typical of the free advertising Delta county has received was the full page color picture of Little Bay de Noc near Masonville in Life magazine last year. It was part of a special picture series on the best fishing spots in the nation—and this area was chosen as the outstanding walleye fishing ground.

You might ask how such publicity benefits a community. In that instance the reply is obvious—it helped win for Escanaba the 1951 national convention of the American Outdoor Writers Association.

Hugh Grow of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and Bill Duchaine of the Escanaba Daily Press, in Maine last spring to make a bid for the 1951 convention, posted the picture along with Escanaba's Invitational display. The Outdoor Writers plumped for Escanaba against Miami and other cities. They will be here from June 30 to July 7.

NOW IN PROGRESS—Other magazines and publications are equally interested in the Escanaba area—not for any reason except that it has news and pictures that interests their readers.

Holiday magazine, for example, is now preparing a story on Michigan. It will be illustrated with pictures from different sections of the state—including small pictures from Escanaba Chamber of Commerce files.

Most of those pictures, incidentally, were taken by Bernie Schultz, Daily Press photographer, who now has on order pictures for: Travel magazine, Detroit, wanting winter sports and ice revue photos; Milwaukee Sentinel, ice revue in rehearsal pictures; and D. & C. Navigation company, Detroit, wanting pictures of tourist attractions in the Escanaba area for use in their Great Lakes cruise advertising.

THE BIG PLAY—The annual Escanaba ice revue, the "biggest small town amateur ice show in the United States," has won the community much national attention.

The name Escanaba has become almost as famous for its figure skaters as it has for its smelt, with no comparison intended. Life magazine at this time is again exploring the picture story possibilities of "the town that is ice skating crazy." Not to be overlooked is the currently popular interest in hockey as well as figure skating.

Bill Duchaine of the Daily Press, indefatigable promoter of the community, has offered suggestions to Life editors that achieved favorable results in the past. The editors are interested not only in the ice show itself but in the community that makes such a revue possible—and supplies top-flight skaters to most of the big ice shows now on the road.

WITHOUT COST—Life magazine was all set to do the Escanaba ice skating story a couple winters ago, but the schedule was upset with another news break in the international ice skating picture and Escanaba was by-passed. That might happen again, but local promoters are hopeful it will not.

For favorable publicity of the community in national magazines is valued beyond any price the community could pay—since such space can not be bought.

If Escanaba hits the top spots in news and pictures, set it down to a good selling job at the community level. The Escanaba area has much to offer as an interesting place to live. If magazine editors also find it interesting, so much the better—for Escanaba.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Lansing—A bill which would require that women workers receive a minimum of $16 a week in any "industry or occupation" was introduced in the Senate today.

Washington—The Piqua Munising Wood Products company of Marquette, Mich., will be the source of supply under a $36,000 contract for tent poles awarded to the Piqua Munising company of Cleveland, Ohio, by the war department quartermaster corps of Indiana.

Escanaba—Golf, as played today, is far from the game that originated in Scotland some 600 years ago by shepherds tending their flocks in the hills, Alex Jolly, Gladstone golf professional, told Rotarians yesterday.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moore have returned from Portland, Me., where they spent six weeks with their son, Dr. R. H. Moore.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Francis X. Bushman, who is featured in a stage show at a theater here, said in an interview yesterday that orchestras will return to theaters. "A theater needs an orchestra to give it life," he declared. Bushman is touring in the Midwest and East, following heavy losses in the stock market crash. He plans to continue his tour in stock shows to New York, unless called back to Hollywood to begin a motion picture on the life of George Washington.

Manistique—Lucy Allen has arrived from Kalamazoo, where she completed a nurse's course at Bronson hospital, and will spend a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Allen.

Red Troops On Sakhalin Worry Pentagon Officials

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON — Policy planners in the Pentagon have been brooding over maps of Japan and its environs which show how Communist force is encroaching with a pincer movement around what has become for America a vital outpost in Asia.

CHILDS

Recent intelligence reports show that a considerable number of Soviet troops — perhaps as many as three or four divisions — have been moved onto the island of Sakhalin. Sakhalin, occupying a highly strategic position to the north of the main islands of Japan, was restored in full to the Soviet Union at the Yalta conference. It had been wrested from Russia following Japan's victory in the Russo-Japanese war.

Russia also has held since 1945 the Kurile islands which are 32 steppingstones of varying size between the peninsula of Kamchatka, which is part of the Siberian mainland, and Japan. The Kuriles are north and west of the Japanese main islands. Korea, Manchuria and Siberia form a kind of wall to the east.

This geography, accentuated by the latest intelligence reports and the news of the continuing withdrawal of United Nations forces down the Korean peninsula, figured in a highly important Pentagon conference. Present were John Foster Dulles, Republican assistant to Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall and host of the top military command.

Dulles Urged Settlement
Realizing the increasingly serious strategic position of Japan, the military men present had urged that there be no change in the Japanese occupation status. They have been fearful that any Japanese settlement leaving out both Russia and Communist China would provoke further warlike moves, coupled with a growing desire on the part of Japanese leaders to take a neutral position in the split between the West and the Soviet Union.

Dulles has argued for some time for a settlement with Japan to be worked out at the earliest opportunity. He holds that with such a settlement the Japanese people can by positive steps be weaned over to the side of the west. Any other course, he contended, would look like needless delay and evasion.

The discussion was finally resolved by Secretary Marshall. In his quiet yet decisive manner he said:

"It seems to me that the time has come for Mr. Dulles to go to Japan to undertake a settlement."

Therefore, Dulles will leave for Tokyo, as President Truman has announced, within 10 days. He will go with rank of ambassador and take with him a sizeable diplomatic and military staff. Incidentally, Dulles and General MacArthur, supreme commander of American forces in Asia, have been in accord on the need for a settlement at the earliest opportunity with Japan. They are expected to work together closely on the terms of the settlement with the former enemy.

May Enlist Rockefeller
Dulles is hopeful of getting John D. Rockefeller III as a member of his staff or at any rate in a consulting capacity. The younger Rockefeller directs the health and other phases of the far-flung operations of the Rockefeller Foundation.

His presence would help to dramatize the appeal which Dulles expects to make to the Japs. The stress will be on the cooperation America can provide in rebuilding the health and well-being of the Japanese people in an independent nation. The question of rearming will be deliberately played down.

With both the principal enemies of World War II—Germany as well as Japan—the impression has been spread abroad that the United States was urging and even begging for rearmament. Some of the talk made it sound as though American plans were entirely dependent on such rearmament.

Recently there has been a growing appreciation of how mistaken this was. For one thing it was helped to convince the uncertain and the timid that the best course for the defeated nations is to play ostrich in a policy of neutralism.

Fear Rearmed Japan
Prime Minister Yoshida speaking to foreign correspondents in Tokyo this week took a super-cautious line. He said that rearmament would upset Japan's "entire program for economic rehabilitation." Yoshida told the correspondents that fears already felt by many nations of a rearmed Japan should not be augmented.

Other Japanese leaders disagree. But there is good reason to believe that neutralism is growing in Japan as it is in Germany. The approach of the Dulles mission would seem calculated to counter this attitude. It should measure those who suspect the motives of the United States. And the problem of building military strength in Japan can be approached after the settlement when the Japs have regained their independence of action.

OUTDOOR HIAWATHALAND

By Vic Powers

The Otter
The booking of Emil E. Liers and his trained otters to appear for the climax of the current Wolverine Conservation association membership drive not only promises fine entertainment for members of that group but seems to have stirred a little controversy. Liers is said to claim the otter is beneficial to fish life and with that the fishermen, particularly the trout fishermen, violently disagree.

The otter has followed a fisherman's life so persistently, the anglers are quick to point out, that he has grown to look very much like that master catcher of fish, the seal. Head and neck in particular are remarkably seal-like, as the otter is splashing about in the shallows or climbs out on the bank like that of a seal than a land animal. His short legs are hardly to be distinguished at a little distance and his heavy short-haired tail is almost as thick at its base as the rest of his body and tapers away fish-like to a point.

Beautiful swimmers, the otters glide and shoot along through the water twisting and turning like the fish they so delight in chasing. They can catch muskrats and are said to catch wild ducks on the water. They catch their fish by fairly swimming them down in spite of all their twisting and jarring. Where fish are abundant an otter can catch ten times as many as he can eat, and is said to do so. Then he satisfies himself with just tasting a mouthful from each, preferring the flaky meat just back of the head. Excellent judges of the different kinds of fish, the otters agree with us in choosing trout and thus earn the enmity of the stream angler.

Otters are widely distributed throughout the world and because of their reputation for destroying fish and the value of their furs are rarely allowed to live in peace. Otter — hunting with packs of hounds of a special breed and trained for the purpose is a pastime in the British Isles.

An Indian species is trained by the natives of some parts of Bengal to assist in fishing, by driving the fish into the nets. In China otters are taught to catch fish, being let into the water for the purpose attached to a long cord.

In Michigan the value of otter pelts almost led to extinction and complete protection was given for a time. Now limited trapping is permitted.

Wildlife Week

The fourteenth annual National Wildlife Restoration week this year falls in the week having the first day of spring, March 18-24. The observance of this week is sponsored by the National Wildlife federation and its affiliates in 40 states.

Dedicated to the sensible management and use of wildlife to the mutual benefit of the public, sportsmen and natural resources both animate and inanimate, of our country, is the program pointed up by wildlife week. The keystone of the program is conservation education. It is an effort to spread information to all walks of life. To point out how conservation, or its lack, has its effects on all people—city dwellers or country folks—on the dust bowl in Texas or the flood zone of the

Spring's New Coat: Narrow And Belted

Variations on the spring coat story are shown in these designs. Philip Mangone creates a coat (left) in frosty white light-weight wool with small rolled collar and dramatic cuffs of smoky silver fox. Back has diamond-shaped fullness. A three-quarter length plaid coat by Vera Maxwell (center) has cuffed push-up sleeves,

By GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The narrow coat is the new coat this spring. It's companion to the sheath dress. Its cut is straight, and frequently this coat is belted. The severity of this straight line is softened by bloused sleeves, by big, soft collars and by scarf necklines.

But the loose cut with fullness is not gone yet. Designers know that women like the look of the pyramid coat so it's carrying over into spring.

There are fitted coats for spring, too, most often in the trumpet silhouette. The top is new-looking in a barrel cut with curving contour. And there are more coats on the ensemble basis. It seems that spring 1951 will be another navy spring. But new coats are also shown in black, in a greyed blue, in beige, violet and grey.

Sleeve treatments are significant in coat design this spring.

standup collar and wool jersey lining. It's in British wool. A coat, blouse and skirt costume by Pauline Trigrere is in black and white salt-and-pepper tweed. Coat is piped in black velvet, has full back, turned-back, curving cuffs. Skirt is straight and black linen blouse is piped in black velvet.

They're bloused, loose, wide, short and cuffed. Often they're the push-up variety, allowing for change in glove lengths.

From Philip Mangone comes a spectacular coat in light-weight basket weave wool. The lines are simple and fluid. There's a small rolled collar and the back has a diamond-shaped fullness. Smoky silver fox is rolled into huge, dramatic cuffs.

Cuffed push-up sleeves appear in a plaid coat by Vera Maxwell.

This is a three-quarter length coat with stand-up collar and rounded shoulders. Its lining is solid color wool jersey, for contrast.

The ensemble appears in a Pauline Trigrere design, a black-and-white salt-and-pepper tweed. A perfectly straight skirt is topped by a matching coat piped in black velvet. The coat has curved cuffs and a full back. A blouse, in black linen, is also piped in black velvet.

First Session Of
Pair Tournament
Saturday Night

The first session of the annual club pair championship tournament sponsored by the Delta Bridge League for possession of the prized Robert L. Parsons trophy will be held Saturday evening, Jan. 20, at the Elks club. The second and third sessions are scheduled for January 26 and February 3.

Cumulative high scores for the three sessions will determine the winners.

The results of the last weekly session were slightly scrambled by some mischance, either by some pairs not making a correct move as directed by table guide cards or by error in placement of the duplicate boards. This resulted in four boards running in to difficulty and in a number of instances pairs playing the same hand twice. This unfortunate circumstance forced the scoring committee to give average scores to these pairs and of course also affected the normal scoring of other participants.

Corrected scores for the session are:

Tie 1-2—Mrs. Joseph Shipman-Mrs. J. W. Ferguson, 69 match points.

Tie 1-2—Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Howe, 69 match points.

3—Mrs. John Card-Mrs. J. S. Sword, 67½ match points.

4—L. W. Olson-J. L. Temby, 65 match points.

Tie 5-6—Mrs. E. A. Christie-Mrs. Rose Louis, 63½ match points.

Tie 5-6—J. W. Ferguson-Dr. G. E. Christie, 63½ match points.

7—G. E. Dehlin-C. W. Murock, 62 match points.

8—Mrs. L. W. Olson-Mrs. J. L. Temby, 57 match points.

9—Mrs. W. P. Belanger-Mrs. Edward Murphy, 56½ match points.

10—Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Remington, 56 match points.

Tie 11-12—Mrs. Fred Hoyler-Mrs. G. E. Dehlin, 52 match points.

Tie 11-12—Mrs. C. W. Murock-Mrs. Alice Sherman, 52 match points.

12—Mrs. C. B. Farrell-Mrs. H. J. Roffe, 47 match points.

The three sessions to be held the next three week-ends are limited to members of the club after which regular weekly sessions will be resumed and attend-

Confession Of Mistakes By Big Shots Would Help

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—It occurs to old Joe Average, here, that he has not read one word of honest apology for all the mistakes that have contributed to our sorry plight of the moment, and that maybe a lot of people like me would applaud a mite of clean-breasting by the boys who run our lives today.

You see for instance, that the house armed services committee has just approved a two-billion-dollar shipbuilding program, which will include a 57,000-ton supercarrier, costing $235 million, or $46 million more than the one ex-Defense Secretary Louis Johnson had ripped from the rails last year, without consulting Navy chiefs.

You have not heard much of a peep from the B-36 laddys, who were enmeshed, this time last year, in a frantic campaign to displace Navy, Marines and Infantry with their all-purpose play-toy. Which, as I remember, "Could go anywhere on the face of the globe at such high levels as to defy fighter opposition," thereby making all the other arms of the military a shoddy dependent, if not altogether obsolete.

Depend On Navy
I notice they are still freezing the hands and feet off foot-soldiers, in the war which is not a war, and killing Marines with the old regularity, and depending heavily on the Navy for offense as well as protective firepower in what is now termed "orderly withdrawal" instead of "retreat." "Retreat" is banned in the fresh semantics of the new censorship code for overseas.

We just decorated Gen. Dean, posthumously, with the Congressional Medal of Honor. The general's last official act was to "get him a tank" at pointblank range with a bazooka. Slaying tanks at close range is not the habitually accepted function of a general officer in time of the miracle, atomic, germ, push-button, big-bomber war.

There has been no official apology for our mistakes, which have come directly from the White House and the White House's appointed aids. There has been little but a bland disregard of our fiddle-faddling with the draft, with universal military training, with our laggardness of rearmament.

No public apology has been made for the failure to arm, and tax and draft, and control, months and months ago when the best brains urged it and demanded it and pleaded for it. It was coolly ignored in the best interests of politics first.

No heavy emphasis would presently be placed on the wrangles between the Messrs. Hoover, Dewey, Taft, Truman, Dulles, et al, on the advisability of semi-isolation versus pugnaciousness abroad if we were strong today, and armed today, and mobilized today.

Much Hot Air
At no time has foreign policy, affecting our lives, and the life of the world, been tailored to military strength, which is the only commodity you traffic in when you are dealing with armed hooligans who respect nothing but a kick in the teeth.

Yet no small admission of error has been made. The speechifiers speechify, but they deal largely in soothing syrup, threat, or psalm-singing, much as if they were coping with small children who have awakened to the threat of bogey-men in the dark. And finally, when we are faced with real desperation, Mr. Truman acts as if his belated recognition of the necessity of drastic revision of armament, taxation, and economic controls was something he just thought up.

And what basically breaks my aching back is the calm assumption from on high that we are all kiddies, with no memories past last week, who will believe anything that papa says if papa says it. One sweep of the arm, one promise of candy, one threat of the switch, and the stupidities and fallacies of two years are miraculously swept away.

This is not, presently, the case. The kiddies would be greatly encouraged, right now, if the grown-ups admitted a little error, and promised to do better in the future. It would give all us kids so much more faith in the grown-ups who take our taxes and send us off to war.

Rail Fans Help The Little Ferdy RR Puff Into The Black After 40 Years

By BERT GOLDRATH
NEA Staff Correspondent
FERDINAND, Ind. —(NEA)—The poor but proud little Ferdinand Railroad, which has been running in the red since its maiden trip 4 years ago, has at last puffed over to the black side of the ledger.

The Ferdy Flyer made its initial run of 7.38 miles from Ferdinand to Huntingburg on Feb. 21, 1909. Then, as now, her rolling stock consisted of locomotive, tender and one gas lit combination coach and baggage car.

For that auspicious event there was a banner-festooned flatcar on which rode the town's silk-hatted dignitaries, and a brass band. Half the town's citizenry had raised $90,000 to make Ferdy possible, after abandoning hope that either the Pennsylvania or the Southern would run through Ferdinand.

At one time the Ferdy was part of the old Indiana Railroad, which spiderwebbed the whole state, but which is now defunct because of bus competition.

Big reason for the Ferdy's sudden prosperity is midwestern railroad fans. On Sundays the fans and their cameras jut from every window, in dire peril of being brushed off by scraping branches.

The Ferdinand Railroad is a serious enterprise for the town of 1000. The local flour mill, furniture factory and lumber yard depend on it to pull their products to the main line. Twenty boys and girls go to school each week-day in Huntingburg, commuting on the Ferdy Flyer. All the milk cans stops are made twice a day.

Rail fans, who are most critical say the Ferdy's roadbed is one of the best. There is little danger of the train running amok, though, as the chuffs along at a steady ten miles an hour.

The engine is a Baldwin 4-4-0, which means that, reading from bow to stern, she has four pilot wheels and four drivers. The one running now is No. 3. The first one developed a wheeze that in two years sent the road into receivership, where it has been, off and on, until very recently.

Engineer Schum has spent 21 of his 34 years with the company at the throttle. Director Sylvester Schreiner, former station agent, came home from World War II and was promoted to general manager. His duties include working as a conductor, baggage-man and mail clerk on each of the one or two daily runs. President of the Ferdy is Charles F. Olinger, who owns about 40 per cent of the stock.

Schum is possibly the only engineer in the world who always faces due south when he is working. The Flyer doesn't turn around when it reaches Huntingburg, but backs up for the return trip with its four-man crew.

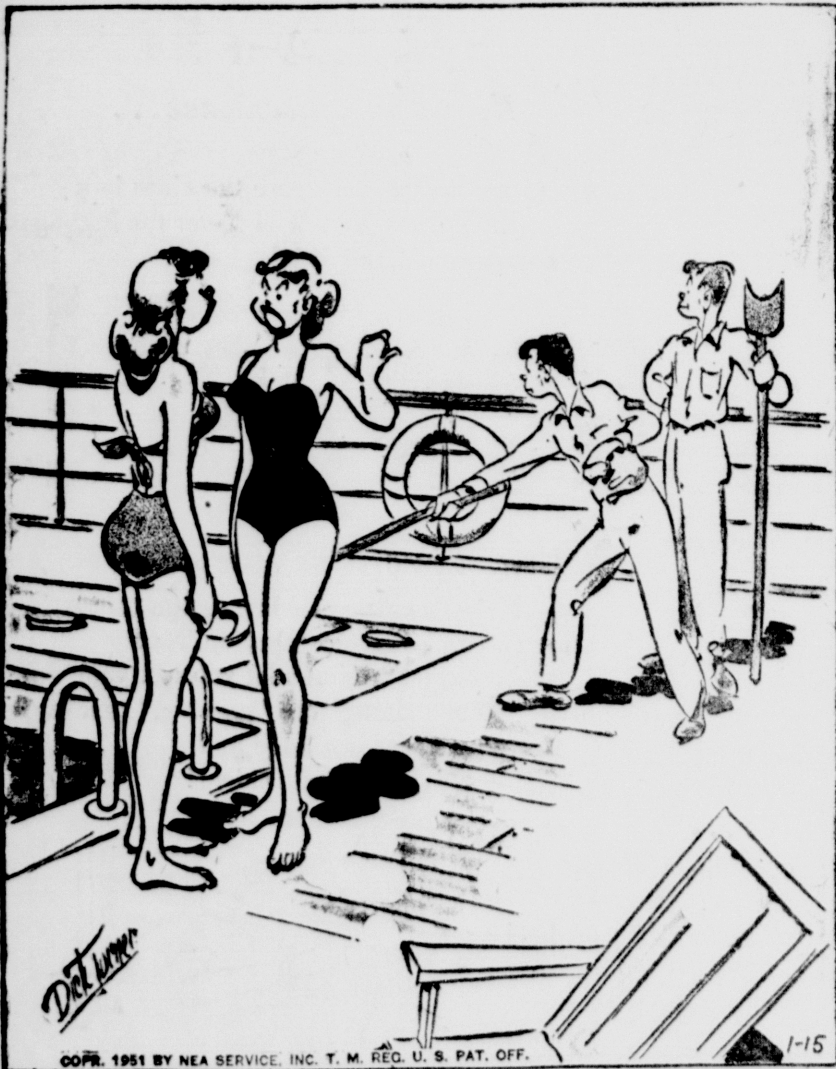

Now that the Ferdy is over the hump financially, its directors are forecasting some long overdue improvements. To the citizens of Ferdinand, this is bigger news than the birth of sextuplets.

Some Rocks Formed By Frozen Liquids

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Certain rocks were formed through the "freezing" of molten liquids, says Dr. George Tunell, University of California professor.

"Laboratory geologists are reproducing some of the processes which created minerals in the earth many years ago, but information thus uncovered has not yet been put to its full use," he says.

Dr. Tunell says that leading field geologists working with metal ores have stated that in order to learn the nature of hot solutions through which many metal ores have been deposited, the cooperation of both field and laboratory workers is needed. Discovery of ore deposits depends in the long run, he said, on how they were formed.

Consumer Loosens Purse Strings And Merchants Rejoice

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK—(P)—The consumer has loosened his purse strings and merchants who a month ago were worrying about the size of their inventories are happy again.

A long list of reports shows now the flow of goods has quickened. Mounting store sales lead some merchants to recall last summer's scare buying. Increased railroad carloading reveal the movement of supplies to factories, of finished goods to stores.

Scare Buying Hinted
For four weeks now department store sales have topped last year's totals by a steadily rising percentage. The federal reserve bank reports that last week sales topped the similar 1950 week by 39 per cent across the nation.

Some of the districts show amazing gains. The St. Louis federal reserve district shows a 58 per cent increase; Cleveland is up 56 per cent and Boston 54 per cent.

Various explanations are given by merchants attending the 40th National Dry Goods association convention here. Some mention a modified version of scare buying —not fear of shortages, since the shopper can see well-stocked shelves; but fear of retail price rises on the way as the inevitable result of soaring commodity prices.

Other merchants note that this year has seen generally good shopping weather, while the period last year with which the comparisons are made was marked by generally poor shopping weather. The percentage gains, therefore, may be more impressive than the actual sales volume itself.

White Sales Popular
But merchants add that in most stores the customary January white sales have been especially popular this year—perhaps an extension of last summer's run on sheets and pillow cases.

Some of the merchants in town think that this year's higher sales may also reflect the fact that the shoppers found better selections in the stores, and were attracted to the shops in greater numbers because of extensive advertising programs since Christmas.

Even the male shopper seems to be buying more, some report. Sales volume of men's hats are up substantially, says Warren S. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the hat research foundation. Reporting on sales at the annual headwear forum here recently, Smith said sales of cloth hats and caps were up 25 per cent, while wool felt hat production has risen 11.3 per cent. A 2 per cent gain in shipments of men's fur felt hats foreshadows increased sales there, too, he predicted.

It brings him news . . . it tells his customers about the food and bargains he has for them. His daily newspaper lets him know, in a brief but thorough manner, what his customers are thinking . . . saying . . . doing. It serves him in many other ways, too. In bringing Bill Gordon the news of his community, nation and the world, his newspaper doesn't do a helter-skelter job. It sifts and resifts the news so he won't have to do it himself. It brings him information by leaders in every field . . . it tells him who won the ball game. ## Record Set By Mail Receipts

Post Office Here
Ends Biggest Year

Gross receipts at the Manistique post office for 1950 totaled $43,776.04 and established a new record, it is revealed by Frank N. Gierke, sr., local postmaster. Total postal receipts for 1949, he said, were $41,253.17.

As a result of the 1949 figure the Manistique post office was advanced from second to first class. Receipts of $40,000 or more annually qualifies a post office for this advance, Gierke said. Effective date of the change was July 1, 1950.

A new high single day record for letter mail cancelled and dispatched also was established last year. The high single day was December 18 when 22,144 pieces of letter mail were run through the cancelling machine. On December 19 the machine handled 19,977 letters. During the period from December 12 to 22, inclusive, a total of 110,000 letters were handled, the highest for any similar period on record here, the postmaster reported. Non-metered mailings for the same period totaled 16,699 pieces. This is advertising matter mailed to subscribers under third class permit.

A total of 21,690 money orders and 10,544 postal notes were issued during 1950. The money order value was $307,769.92 and postal notes $57,399.71.

Quarterly totals of money orders and postal notes issued during 1950 are as follows: March 31, 4,773 money orders and 2,549 postal notes; June 30, 5,404 money orders and 2,641 postal notes; September 30, 5,909 money orders and 2,626 postal notes; December 31, 5,904 money orders and 2,728 postal notes.

Postage meters in business places were not used in Manistique until last July, and figures were not released showing the number of letters cancelled on them.

Rink Schedule Here Changed

Warming House
Hours Shortened

New warming house hours have been established for the Central park skating rink, effective today, it is announced by T. H. Reque, city recreation director.

The new schedule eliminates all morning hours, and early afternoon hours on school days, thereby reducing rink maintenance expense. During the period the warming house is open, a city police representative is on duty at the rink, and his labor costs are charged to the city recreation department, Reque said.

On school days the warming house will be open from 4 to 6 p. m. and from 7 to 9:30 p. m. Previously the afternoon hours were from 2 to 5 p. m.

Hours on Saturdays and Sundays will be 1 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9:30 p. m. Previous day time hours were 10 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m.

Reque said that the rink is usually flooded on Saturday mornings, weather conditions permitting, and skating is impossible anyway. Therefore it appeared rather uneconomical to pay wages to the warming house attendant for two hours at that time. Few people patronize the rink on school day afternoons before 4 p. m. because children are attending classes, he said, and it represents a cash saving to the department to shorten the afternoon warming house schedule.

Since the rinks were opened several weeks ago they have been used by hundreds of persons, mainly school boys and girls.

Attachments On Sewing Machines Will Be Studied

The use of sewing machine attachments will be demonstrated to Schoolcraft county homemakers January 23 and 24, at is announced by Fred C. Bernhardt, district 4-H club agent.

James Mallin, of Escanaba, representative of a sewing machine company, and Miss Irma Saven, district home demonstration leader from Marquette, will conduct demonstrations and a workshop at the Seney school on January 23, and at the Manistique township hall, on January 24. The meetings will start at 10:00 a. m.

This workshop is one of the scheduled lessons in the county home economics program. Representatives from the 21 home economics clubs in the county have been invited to attend.

A year ago, the homemakers had a workshop at which they learned to clean and adjust their sewing machines.

List Schedule Of Ice Classes

Enrollment Bigger
Than Anticipated

Because of an unexpectedly large registration of children and adults for skating instruction at the Thursday afternoon and evening classes, it has been necessary to revise class arrangements, it is announced by T. H. Reque, city recreation director.

Approximately 175 persons registered for instruction in beginning, fancy and figure skating at the organization session last Thursday. This was far more than anticipated and necessitated dropping the proposed half hour classes for courses running from 45 minutes to an hour and a quarter, Reque reported.

The new teaching schedule adopted is as follows: 4 to 5 p. m., first and second grades; 5 to 6 p. m., third and fourth grades; 7 to 7:45 p. m., fifth and sixth grades; 7:45 to 8:30 p. m., seventh and eighth grades; 8:30 to 9:15 p. m., ninth grade through twelfth grade and also including adults; 9:15 to 10:30 p. m., adults only.

The period from 3 to 4 p. m. is being reserved for children of St. Francis de Sales school who can report earlier than public school children. St. Francis children who cannot take skating instructions before 4 p. m., however, may join their particular grade divisions in the scheduled classes announced.

Social

Kraft Extension Club

The Kraft Extension club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Hamill. Mrs. Donald Hastings was welcomed as a new member at this meeting. A report was given of last year's activities.

Two delegates were elected at this meeting to attend the district meeting at the Manistique township hall on January 24. The instructions on the use of sewing machine attachments will be given.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Home Extension and Study Club

The home extension and study club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. William H. Schobert, 203 Maple avenue. Mrs. Kenneth Broecker was assisting hostess.

Alertness Of Autoists Saves Boy Sledder, 7

Only the alertness of two motorists saved a 7-year old Wells boy from possible serious injury, Michigan State Police who investigated the accident Saturday afternoon report.

Nestor Erickson of Gladstone Route 1 was driving down the hill near the school at Wells when he noticed a youth on a sled coast down an incline at right angles to the road.

The course and speed of the sled would bring him in the path of the Erickson auto, the driver judged, so he swerved the auto to the left and into the path of an approaching auto driven by Nicholas Crnich jr., of Highland avenue, Wells.

Crnich swung his auto to the right and down an embankment into the swamp. His auto was badly damaged.

Troopers praised the action of the two motorists and said they unquestionably saved the boy from bodily harm.

Cooperation of parents in seeing that their children slide in safe places and in ending the "hitching" onto autos which also is common in many places is requested by officers.

LaDonne Lindahl Bride Saturday Of Maurice G. Miller

Miss LaDonne Lindahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erick Lindahl, 1601 Wisconsin avenue, City, and Maurice G. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Miller, 601 South 17th street, Escanaba, spoke their nuptial vows at a 5 o'clock ceremony on Saturday afternoon at All Saints Rectory. Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette united the young couple in marriage.

Miss Joyce Lindahl, sister of the bride and Jack McCarthy, a close friend of the groom, were the attendants.

The bride wore a Navy blue suit with dusty rose accessories and a corsage of pink briar cliff roses was pinned to her shoulder. Her attendant was attired in a light blue suit with navy blue accessories. Salmon pink Pinnocchio roses formed her corsage.

The bride's mother wore a Taupe colored dress and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother chose a red print dress and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, with over 125 guests attending. A three tiered wedding cake topped by the traditional miniature bride and groom centered the table.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the newlyweds will live in Milwaukee, Wis., where the groom is employed by Nash-Kelvinator.

VIENNA—(AP)—In Communist Hungary, Red agitators won't let citizens just sit peacefully on a commuter train and read their newspapers. No matter how badly John J. Hungarians feel, they pursue him with Communist propaganda and make him enter a political discussion of Marxism.

This was revealed recently in a Hungarian Communist newspaper which reached Vienna.

It gave instructions to the agitators for their work every morning and evening on the trains carrying thousands of workers to and from their homes, saying that non-Communists found the trains a wonderful opportunity for "subversive rumors based on the lying Voice of America."

'American Way' Pea Is Voiced

Threats To Freedom Cited By Kaufman

America is great and strong and prosperous because it has the "one common denominator of human freedom," Tom Kaufman, member of the public relations staff of Allis Chalmers company, Milwaukee, Monday told the Escanaba Kiwanis and Rotary clubs in joint meeting at the House of Ludington.

Speaking on the subject "This is Our America," Kaufman cited the socialist and communist dangers to the United States and quoted supporting passages from "The Daily Worker," communist publication.

The Daily Worker's line is always peace and prosperity in Russia, of wars and scarcity in the United States, Kaufman said.

Most To Offer

Deliberate misrepresentations of American government and American business reveal the threat to human freedom, to the continued success of the American way of life, Kaufman declared.

The American people today are thinking more than ever before of the benefits of this country's economic system, which offers more to the people than any other system in history, he added. The people today are aroused to the necessity of guarding the heritage of freedom founded on:

1—Belief in God, government based on moral law, and recognition of man's spiritual character.

2—Constitutional government designed to serve and protect the inalienable rights of the people as established in the constitution and the Bill of Rights.

Showing the Way

Although the United States has but one-sixth of the total land area of the world, and but one-seventh of the world's population, it has, Kaufman said, the following evidence that the American Way is superior to any other:

The U. S. has 85 per cent of the autos in the world; 50 per cent of the hospital beds; 92 per cent of the bath tubs; 52 per cent of the young people enrolled in high schools; and 45 per cent of the world's total wealth.

Longer life, better health, greater opportunities that, even in deepest depression place Americans above the living standards of other countries is comparison enough to convince us of the benefits of the American Way, Kaufman said.

By The People

The American system of government and way of life is under constant attack, Kaufman declared.

He described communism as "only a revolutionary form" of socialism, and warned that it is impossible to know how many communists have "worked their way into high government circles."

to use their positions to influence government policies at home and abroad."

He urged his listeners to "get back to the fundamentals" of American government, with greater personal participation in the protection of the American Way of life, and its defense against those in government who would "usurp the functions of individuals or private industry."

Wealth comes from work, not high taxes and idleness, he warned. Kaufman was introduced by John Green, Rotary Club program chairman.

Ilse Of Buchenwald Gets Life Sentence For Prison Murders

AUGSBURG, Germany — (P)—Ilse Kocl, was sentenced to life imprisonment today for causing the murder of Buchenwald concentration camp prisoners.

The "red witch of Buchenwald," 44 years old, was convicted of crimes against Austrian and German prisoners of the Nazis. The red-haired widow of the camp's wartime Nazi commander was not in court to hear the verdict.

Mrs. Koch broke into a hysterical frenzy in her prison cell last night. A court doctor testified she was in no condition to attend the session today and hear the sentence.

Five Young Negroes Shot In Argument On Pontiac Street

PONTIAC, Mich. — (P)—An argument resulted in a gun battle that wounded five Negro youths slightly in downtown Pontiac early yesterday.

Police are holding Lawrence Reed, 23, and Charles Bond, 22, and are seeking a third man. Detective Leland Hunt said Reed, Bond, and the third man, all Negroes, fired at a group with which they had been arguing.

Four men in the group were wounded. They were Booker Jay, 17; Roy White, 17; Latorges McHane, 18, and Roy Guthrie, 22, all of Pontiac. A passerby, Arlene Harris, 17, was also wounded.

St. Joseph hospital attendants said the condition of the five wounded was good.

Hunted Killer Phones FBI In Los Angeles

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — (P)—Sheriff Eugene L. Mueller said he had received information that William E. Cook, desperado suspected of killing eight persons, had telephoned the FBI in Los Angeles twice tonight.

He said he had no information as to the nature of the calls. One of the calls, he said, was traced to an area east of Los Angeles.

Law enforcement authorities immediately ordered road blocks throughout San Bernardino county, which lies just east of Los Angeles county.

In Los Angeles, the FBI declined to confirm Mueller's report. A spokesman said "new information" had been received but declined to disclose where it came from.

Change In Weather May Curb England's Influenza Epidemic

LONDON — (P)—A weekend lull gave hope today that warmer weather has helped stem one of the worst flu epidemics in the history of the British Isles.

There were no new cases reported in an outbreak of small-pox in the Brighton area, where 23 have fallen ill and eight have died.

The ministry of health said there was "no material change" in the flu situation over the weekend. Its most recent figures showed the epidemic killed 458 persons during the week ended Jan. 6 in the 126 "great towns" of England and Wales. These cities contain about half the country's population.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Mixed trends ruled at the opening with a good deal of uncertainty displayed. Within a few minutes, however, demand increased in all pits and everything was lifted above the previous close.
Wheat near the end of the first hour was 14 1/2 to 15 cent higher, March $2.43 1/2; and oats were 1/4 to 1/4 higher, March 95 1/2.
Soybeans were 1/4 to 1/4 cent higher, January $9.12 1/2, and lard was 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $19.70.
Another message from President Truman to Congress was due today. This will be confined to the budget, but some traders felt it might contain hints at the administration's price policy in regard to agricultural products.
Thus far, the price ceiling question still seems to be pretty much up in the air.

Seven Die In Air Crash; Stewardess Killed Saving 10

from Newark, N. J., to Norfolk, Va. It touched down for the landing at 1:13 p. m. on the 6,000-foot paved runway.

Gasoline Explodes

Because clouds covered the airport the plane made an instrument landing, a CAA administration employee on duty in the airport control tower, said. He verified that it was a normal landing but said the plane overran the runway, rammed through a cyclone fence and bumped across the ditch, grinding to a stop with the after section of the fuselage bridging the 10-foot cut.

As soon as the plane stopped, flames shot up from the severed left wing, and fed by hundreds of gallons of high octane gasoline, flashed to the cabin. Airport emergency squads were unable to extinguish the fire before the plane was all but destroyed.

None of the 21 passengers and crewmen surviving were seriously injured. Most of them suffered bruises in the 10 foot jump from the cabin to the ground. Other passengers were burned about the hands and face.

Young Mother Made Widow Again By War

PITMAN, N. J. — (P)—A 26-year-old mother widowed by war twice within six years hardly had time for tears today as she looked ahead for herself and four small daughters.

Mrs. Jean E. Snodgrass told friends she expects to stay at home, devoting most of her time to Kim, Lynn, Eileen, and Jean. The eldest is four, the youngest one.

She has asked the veterans administration to help her straighten out her affairs.

The name of Mrs. Snodgrass' second husband and father of her four daughters, M-Sgt. James Fort Snodgrass, was on the defense department's 200th Korean war casualty list released yesterday. He was killed Nov. 28.

Mrs. Snodgrass' first husband, Flight Capt. Charles Ridgley Hammell, 3rd, of Philadelphia, was killed in a takeoff crash at Dinjan, India, in 1945, while piloting a transport loaded with supplies for China.

Visitor At Hospital Kills Woman Patient

PITTSBURGH — (P)—A man called to see a patient in the ward of Magee hospital last night, then slashed her to death with a butcher knife while nine other patients screamed in terror, police said.

Sergeant Henry Stacklin said both victim and assailant were identified as Hattie Tucker, 26, the man as Charles Faust, also 26.

As related by Stacklin, Faust drew the eight-inch knife without a word, and started slashing. The woman jumped from her bed and ran screaming into the corridor, Faust in pursuit. She fell dead after repeated gaspings. Faust was subdued by doctors and nurses.

Stacklin said Faust admitted the slaying, but would comment only: "She had it coming to her."

Vanderbilt Students Put In Call To Stalin

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (P)—Three Vanderbilt university students concerned about the prospects of being drafted decided to do some investigating.

Tonight they placed a person-to-person call to Joseph Stalin, Moscow, Russia. The call is scheduled for completion at 11 a. m. (CST) today, 6 p. m. Kremlin time.

"We want to ask him if we should join up now or wait for the draft," said Jimmy Threlkeld of Tupelo, Miss.

Other students at the Phi Delta Theta fraternity house chipped in to help raise $9 for three minutes. Assisting on the project were Charles Newman of Cookeville, Tenn., and Hans Pauls of Steubenville, O. Threlkeld said.

Florida Citrus Grove Strikers Use Bullets

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. — (P)—The Polk county citrus pickers strike went into its third week today, following a weekend when gunfire was used for the first time.

E. E. Adams, owner of a grove at Eagle Lake near here, reported non-striking pickers were fired upon late Saturday. He said one bullet passed within 100 feet of the pickers.

He did not know who did the firing. He explained he and his sons were armed as a protective measure for their workers. Adams said roving pickets came to his grove three times last week and threatened pickers.

Seventeen persons so far have been arrested in the 15-day strike.

Bomber Plunge Fatal To Four In Chicago

CHICAGO — (P)—At least four men died in the flaming wreckage of a B-25 bomber which crashed early today shortly after taking off from O'Hare field for landing instructions.

The O'Hare field control tower said the plane had a crew of five and that they were members of the National Guard 441st bomb group who were returning to the field after a training mission.

Spending Budget Sets Up Biggest Tax Burden In History Of U. S.

on government workers.

In the budget itself, the President estimated U. S. military service costs for the year starting July 1 at $41,421,000,000—58 per cent of the budget total. That is more than double the $20,427,000,000 the President estimated will actually be spent in the current year.

It counted on active armed force strength of nearly 3,500,000 mid-1952, with "our troops supplied with the best weapons in the world."

2. Proposed a $7,461,000,000 outlay of military and economic aid to friendly foreign countries—compared to $4,726,000,000 this year—to further the cause of "international security." The foreign program would take nearly ten cents of each dollar spent.

3. Assigned $22,712,000,000 or 32 per cent of the total to multiple other home-front costs of government, a $1,222,000,000 increase over this year. Mr. Truman said in this connection that "the re-

American Forces Staying In Korea, Army Chief Says

Maj. Gen. Alexander R. Bolling, army chief of intelligence.

High naval officers also sat in. Another puzzling development was the abrupt switch in the command of the second division.

Maj. Gen. Clark Louis Ruffner was named to replace Maj. Gen. Robert B. McClure. There was no explanation. But McClure is an expert on China and formerly was deputy chief of staff to Chinese Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

McClure had commanded the second division only since Dec. 11, after it lost one-third of its men holding back Chinese forces while the Eighth army withdrew from North Korea. The second's Wonju campaign since then has been partly successful—the only allied campaign to elicit since General MacArthur's November offensive backfired.

Weather Bitter Cold

Thus it was assumed that he was not removed for any reason except that of a larger assignment. This might be liaison or a command position with the Chinese Nationalists, who have an army of around 400,000 trained men in Formosa.

The threatened second division, which has stood off for a week fierce Red attacks near Wonju, saw relatively little action Sunday.

The recapture of Youngwol was announced by the U. S. Eighth army. Its commander, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, said Monday that he was confident the Eighth could hold off Chinese and North Korean hordes.

Youngwol is strategically important because strong Red Korean and guerrilla forces there had partially outflanked the second division.

The allied troops were fighting a rugged battle in rough terrain and bitter cold weather, to hold their hard-won positions one mile and a half south of Wonju, where seven vital roads cross.

The Eighth army communique said 1,000 Red troops were killed Sunday—a day generally considered quiet.

All Armed Services Volunteers Must Go Through Draft Board

WASHINGTON — (P)—President Truman today directed that all youths volunteering for the armed services must do so through their local draft boards.

Under his order, the volunteers must file an application with his board for voluntary induction. This is required whether or not the volunteer has been registered.

Under the regulations, a man filing for voluntary induction will be classified as soon as possible and placed in the class available for military service if he qualifies.

A man not required to be registered for induction who volunteers will be registered and given a selective service number in the same manner as those required to register.

The White House made public Mr. Truman's order without any immediate explanatory statement. It was not clear whether it would leave the volunteer free to enter the service of his choice.

At present, the Navy and the Air Force have been receiving all the volunteers they can handle. The draft has been used only to get manpower for the Army.

Lansing Quadruplets Visit Rosebush Four

PONTIAC, Mich.—Two sets of quadruplets kept a date here yesterday, one set was excited but the other only bored.

"Oh... aren't they cute," chorused the 20-year-old Morlok quads—Edna, Wilma, Sarah and Helen—when they saw the tiny Rosebush quads—Kenneth, Keith, Krystal and Kristine.

The five-day-old Rosebush foursome just squirmed in their incubators.

The Morlok girls came from their Lansing home to see the babies born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rosebush.

requirements of national security are reflected in every major function of the budget."

Stiffest In History

4. Included in this total proposed outlays of $110,000,000 to help expand production of such basic products as rubber, steel and aluminum; $1,277,000,000 to enlarge output of "atomic materials and weapons"; $276,000,000 to enforce the price-wage controls Mr. Truman says are inescapable; $24,000,000 for rent controls; $90,000,000 for business loans.

5. Tucked in quietly most all the major items which fly the Truman "fair deal" flag—the FEPC plan for equal job rights for negroes, federal aid to state schools, federal medical insurance with a first-year payroll tax totaling $275,000,000, housing for "low income groups" the main part of the Brannan farm program, the St. Lawrence power-seaway project. But Mr. Truman put them all on a "defense-needs" footing.

6. Confronted Congress with an overall budget $24,384,000,000 bigger than this year's and one within $27,209,000,000 of the World War II peak.

7. Faced Americans with prospects of the stiffest taxes in history, draining more than 27 per cent of the national income into the federal chest. The $16,456,000,000 tax hike suggestion, details of which will come later, posed a nearly 30 per cent increase in revenues. Only last year they were jacked up by $8,000,000,000 or so a year to a record high level.

Long Drag Ahead

8. Asked a $351,000,000 increase in postal rates—mostly on magazines, newspapers, advertising matter and the like—to trim a threatened $521,000,000 postoffice deficit. Without the rate hike, the budget deficit will go to $160,000,000.

9. Claimed "strict economy in non-defense spending" was his policy and it was "incorporated in this budget." He gave an example: "The only major new public works included are those directly necessary to the defense effort."

10. Called on the nation to "work longer and harder" and be prepared for prolonged sacrifices because "the present emergency may be of long duration and we must be prepared for crises in the more distant as well as in the immediate future."

The budget document itself was a mail-order catalogue sized item, although stripped this time of the usual detailed breakdowns on military costs, partly for security reasons but also because estimates are still tentative.

Message For World

In addition to the $41,421,000,000 for the military which the President asked in cash, he said the armed forces' authority to enter into contracts, for which actual funds would be voted later, should be upped by $70,000,000,000. Of this, $10,000,000,000 would be charged up to this fiscal year.

The message accompanying the budget, although fated for the historic formal process of a drafted-off reading to Congress by clerks, was directed at the whole world.

"The new emphasis on military preparedness reflects the necessities of the world situation today," Mr. Truman said.

"It reflects no shift of purpose. Our purpose remains to secure and strengthen peace."

"We are determined to seek peace by every honorable means—mindful of our responsibility to ourselves, to our friends and allies, and to humanity everywhere to spare the world the tragedy of another world war."

Must Work Harder

Sacrifice and hardship are ahead on the home front, Mr. Truman said.

"I have presented a budget to meet our country's needs in a period of danger," he said in ending his message.

"For the third time in this century we as Americans must subordinate our peacetime goals to what is required for the survival of the nation.

"Our young men will devote more years to military service. All of us will work longer and harder than we have worked before. We will pay much heavier taxes."

"In return we will get something precious—strength to meet and overcome the barbaric threat of Communism in whatever manner it confronts us."

The message showed the President expects the government to take in an unprecedented amount of revenue in fiscal 1952. Even without the $16,456,000,000 he said should be levied to balance the budget, Mr. Truman estimated the next tax take at $55,138,000,000. That allows for $2,703,000,000 in tax refunds.

Confident Of Support

This total compares with an anticipated revenue of $44,512,000,000 in current fiscal 1951 and the $44,762,000,000 in wartime fiscal 1945, the record actual intake thus far.

Even without further tax hikes, Mr. Truman said, "direct taxes on individuals" will continue the No. 1 revenue source, yielding $22,309,000,000 in fiscal 1951 and rising next year to $26,780,000,000, footing.
